Local Jottings and Provincial Notes

Attention is called to the advertisement in this issue, in reference to the standing field's competition in connection with the Agricultural Society; the many excellent fields of grain in the Bowden District should warrant a large entry.

G. W. Whitlock reports having sold some new potatoes in town on Saturday the 13th inst. Guess this is the first lot.

If the correspondents who are now sending in the news of their district to the Bowden News will kindly call at this office we will be only too pleased to supply them with paper and envelopes for that purpose.

We are pleased to hear that Miss Jessie A. Shenfield has passed with First Class Honors the Examination of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, in Theory and harmony.

The crops of this district are looking extra good at present, and due to the warm weather which we have had and what more, we only hope for a continuance of same.

As a business proposition you ought to join the Bowden Agricultural Society.

INSECT STINGS AND SUMMER SORES

Insect bites and stings, blistered feet and sunburn! These three things or any one of them, may spoil some days of your vacation, or make your work a bore! Zam-Buk is the remedy you need! It takes the "burn" out of these red, inflamed patches where the sun has got home on you; it eases bad mosquito bites, and it soothes and heals blistered feet and hands.

In the hot weather young babies suffer greatly from heat spots and chafed places. Here, again, Zam-Buk will give almost instant ease! Mothers should always keep Zam-Buk handy, and should use Zam-Buk Soap for baby's bath.

For cuts, burns and more serious skin diseases, such as eczema, blood poisoning, etc., and for piles, Zam-Buk is absolutely without an equal. All druggists and stores 50c box or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

Varieties of Farm Crops Compared

According to tests of many of the best varieties of farm crops, carried on at the Central and Branch Farms of the Dominion Experimental Farms system, some sorts of each class are much superior to others that by some are considered good. As a guide to the crop growers of Canada as to which varieties are most valuable, Bulletin No. 77 of the Central Experimental Farm has been prepared for distribution. This bulletin gives selected lists of the best varieties for each province or district, the lists being based on the accumulated experience of past years. Among the newer varieties of merit, Marquis wheat, Manchurian barley and Arthur pea, are especially mentioned. This bulletin of 74 pages deals not only with varieties of grain crops, but with those of fodder crops and potatoes as well. Crops may be procured by applying to the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, Can.

In the Giddy Whirl

Into the little village of Wuzzlevale there came a circus with brazen band, gaudy posters, mammoth elephants, superlative clowns and fiery untamed lions.

The boys of the place were mad with excitement and the young son of a notoriously close-fisted old farmer rushed up to his father and eagerly requested the price of a ticket to view the show.

What, demanded the old skinflint, waste good money to see a circus? Yes, father, came the meek and mild reply.

Young man, answered the older sadly, it was only last month that I let you go to the top of the hill to see the eclipse of the sun. My lad, do you want all your life to be one wicked round of gayety?—Life.

Nights of Agony came in the train of asthma. The victim cannot lie down and sleep is driven from his brain. What grateful relief is the immediate effect of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. It banishes the frightful conditions, clears the passages, and enables the afflicted one to again sleep as soundly and restfully as a child. Insist on the genuine at your nearby druggist.

Hard Business

An advertising man of Cleveland was going home one night in a street car. It was late, and the man who sat next to him began to talk.

What business are you in? he asked.

The advertising business. Is that so. I used to be in the advertising business myself. Quit it, though, and went into the rag-and-bottle business; got a horse and clean up my sixty every month.

There seemed to be nothing for the advertising man to say, so he said it. Yes, continued the talkative man. I was in the advertising business—I was a sandwich man for a clothing store or six months! Say, and he leaned over confidentially, ain't it hard work when the wind blows?—Saturday Evening Post.

COMPLETELY CURED OF DYSPEPSIA

By Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets

We are continually hearing from grateful people who have had experiences like that of Miss Alice E. Cooper, of Niagara Falls, Ont., who writes:

"I wish to express my gratitude to you for the benefit I received from your most wonderful Dyspepsia Tablets. Having taken other medicines without having received the slightest relief, I heard of your Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets and thought I would give them a trial. I have been completely cured of dyspepsia. I will be only too pleased to advise any one troubled with dyspepsia to give them a fair trial."

Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets not only give the immediate relief from heartburn, flatulence, acidity of the stomach and biliousness, which is much needed, but if taken regularly for a few days or weeks they completely cure the most aggravated cases of stomach trouble. When for so, you can get a box from your druggist, why go on suffering? National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Montreal.

CORD OF POTATOES

Novel Feature of the International Dry-Farmed Products Exposition

One of the most novel features ever shown at a fair or exposition will be the display made by the united commercial clubs of Stevens County, Washington, at the Dry-Farmed Products Exposition next October, when a pile of mammoth potatoes, perfect in size and enormous in dimensions and weight, will be shown in the form of a cord. It is already planned to bring to Lethbridge sufficient of these spuds to stack as a farmer stacks a cord of wood, and an ingenious method has been devised to keep them in such shape as to cause people to wonder.

Recently a number of Chinese children have been found in the streets of Paris and taken before the magistrates as vagabonds. These children were brought to France by showmen to perform as acrobats. After a few months their performances having lost their novelty and ceased to attract, the managers abandoned them. They have been taken to the Chinese Legation to be sent home. But they don't want to go home. The beautiful city of Paris is more to their liking.

A Massachusetts woman has patented a wire gauze cover for bird cages to protect their occupants from cats and insects.

Comparing Bumps

The lady was talking to the professional chauffeur.

Did you ever run over a dog? she asked.

Yes, he answered, cheerfully. Goodness! Wasn't it awful? It sure was, ma'am.

Did you ever hit a cow? he asked.

Twice.

And—er—did you ever strike a human being?

Meaning a man? Yes—once. Heavens! Didn't you faint?

No—I stuck to my wheel.

But how did you feel? What was it like? How—what—when—

Well, it was a bigger bump than a dawg, but it was lots softer than a cow. Otherwise it was sorter betwixt an' between!

WOMEN AND PROFESSIONS

Lord Haldane Discusses Question in Evidence Before Commission

It is not often that a government report contains matter especially of interest to women; but the views of Lord Haldane on the much discussed topic as to whether they should be excluded from the "professions" given in evidence before the royal commission on the civil service, will be read with interest by all women who have to depend upon themselves for their living. Though the inquiry was supposed to touch the civil service only, the war minister was very emphatic in expressing his opinion on the subject generally. He said his belief was that the exclusion of women from a great many professions at the present time was the result of superstition, and very little else. He believed there was a great many professions in which women were not only qualified to do the work, but where they could be of the greatest possible use.

There were certainly a great many positions in the civil service which women could fill quite as well as men, and which they did not fill at the present time—higher division posts as well as others.

Lord Haldane was questioned by Miss Haldane as to whether he considered that post qualified for by a higher education, whatever was the case with regard to lower posts should receive equal pay in the case of women and men. He replied that he had previously said that upon that question he had found it difficult to make up his mind.

It might be said that they must pay a man, not what he was worth, not the cost of producing him, but a living wage, because he was the breadwinner for his wife and family, and they ought to encourage him to have a wife and family, in the interests of the state, and therefore he must be paid something extra for being a citizen.

NEW STRENGTH FOR NURSING MOTHERS

Aching Backs and Tired Limbs Need Not Be Endured

Aching backs, tired limbs, attacks of faintness, headaches and backaches, need not be a part of woman's life. There are times when her blood needs special attention, and these times are indicated by one or more of the above symptoms. It is at such times that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are worth their weight in gold to women, for they actually make the rich, red health-giving blood which makes weak, tired, despondent women, active and strong, and feeling equal to all their household duties. Such a sufferer was Mrs. William Sullivan, Main River, N.B., who says: "I am writing to acknowledge the great good I received through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After my baby was born last summer I was so run down that life was really a burden. I had to drag myself about to do my housework, and every moment was one of trial. If I went upstairs I would be breathless and tired out, and my heart would palpitate violently, and would have a feeling as though I was smothering. My appetite was poor, and my baby was suffering from my weakness. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and got six boxes, and before they were all quite used I was like a different woman. My appetite returned; I regained my strength, and the work about the house no longer bothered me. As the result of my experience I would strongly urge all weak women and nursing mothers to use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

There is no woman, no matter what her station in life, who will not enjoy better health if she occasionally fortifies her blood through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or may be had by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

He Knew a Verse

Frederick was only 4, and had just returned to his home in Alabama after a visit to relatives in Missouri. Within a week or two he went to Sunday school for the first time. The previous Sunday the teacher had told the little ones to come prepared to speak a little verse from the bible or their Sunday school paper.

When it came Frederick's turn, he said, Frederick, this being our first Sunday, I presume you haven't a verse.

Frederick, with a great deal of confidence, replied, Yes, ma'am, I have. Very well, let us have it.

At which Frederick chirped up blithely:

You gotta quit kickin' my dawg aroun'.

The Feminine Mind

They lived in a little town adjacent to Pittsburg. Hubby was trying to jolly wifey along and make her forget that she wanted a new spring suit.

Now, said he, the town committee is offering a prize for the prettiest lawn.

What is that to me?

Why don't you enter the contest? You know I haven't had a lawn in five years. I haven't even a gingham that is fit to wear.

Moral—You can't take their minds off the subject of dress.—Pittsburg Post.

GOOD NIGHT'S SLEEP

No Medicine so Beneficial to Brain and Nerves.

Lying awake nights makes it hard to keep awake and do things in day time. To take "tonics and stimulants" under such circumstances is like setting the house on fire to see if you can put it out.

The right kind of food promotes refreshing sleep at night and a wide awake individual during the day.

A lady changed from her old way of eating, to Grape-Nuts, and says:

"For about three years I had been a great sufferer from indigestion. After trying several kinds of medicine, the doctor would ask me to drop off potatoes, then meat, and so on, but in a few days that craving, gnawing feeling would start up, and I would vomit everything I ate and drank. "When I started on Grape-Nuts, vomiting stopped, and the bloated feeling which was so distressing disappeared entirely.

"My mother was very much bothered with diarrhea before commencing the Grape-Nuts, because her stomach was so weak she could not digest her food.

Since using Grape-Nuts food she is well, and says she don't think she could do without it.

"It is a great brain restorer and nerve builder, for I can sleep as sound and undisturbed after a supper of Grape-Nuts as in the old days when I could not realize what they meant by a "bad stomach." There is no medicine so beneficial to nerves and brain as a good night's sleep, such as you can enjoy after eating Grape-Nuts." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.

Bombay's Animal Hospital

In far off Bombay is probably the largest and most elaborate hospital for animals in the world. It has both its inpatients and its outpatients and it ministers to animals of all kinds as carefully as human beings are administered to in the hospitals of the West.

Over 2,000 animals are taken into the hospital each year, and well on to 1,000 are treated as outpatients. In all there are some forty buildings, large and small, connected with the hospital, and the architectural structure and the appointments of some of them are indeed superior to those of many of our regular hospitals.

This splendid hospital for animals was founded by a native Indian, a Parsee merchant, Sir Dinshaw Manockjee Petit.

Not only domestic animals of every kind are treated and cared for in it but the animals of the jungle and the wild birds which are found wounded or suffering from any cause are taken to it and nursed back to health and then set free again.—Every Living Creature.

Wanted to Make Sure

Frederick Townsend Martin, apropos of the extravagance of the idle rich, said at a dinner:

I hear of a case in point. The wife of an overworked promoter said at breakfast:

Will you post this letter for me, dear? It's to the furrier, countermanding my order for that $900 sable and ermine stole. You'll be sure to remember.

The tired eyes of the harassed happy promoter lit up with joy. He seized a skipping rope that lay with a heap of dolls and toys in a corner, and, going to his wife, said:

Here, tie my right hand to my left foot, so I won't forget.

Then He Drew a Cheque

Editor's wife—How do you like my new dress? Isn't it a poem?

Editor—No; I don't have to pay for poetry.

Yes. We have accumulated enough fines for non-attendance to take us all to a matinee party.

Looking Out for Number One

Sydney had been given some discarded millinery with which to amuse herself. She trimmed a marvelous looking hat, and so arranged it that a long red ostrich plume hung straight down from the front of the brim, over her baby face.

Come here, Sydney, said her mother. Let me tack that feather back, out of your eyes.

Oh, no, mother! I want it that way, so I can see it myself. Most always only other people can see the feathers on my hats.—Judge's Library.

The Poor Man's Friend.—Put up in small bottles that are easily portable and sold for a very small sum, Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil possesses more power in concentrated form than one hundred times the quantity of many unguents. Its cheapness and the varied uses to which it can be put make it the poor man's friend. No dealer's stock is complete without it.

GERTRUDE WARDENAuthor of "Dancing Leaves,"

etc., etc.WARD, LOCK & CO., LIMITED
London, Melbourne and Toronto

"Tis but my name that is her enemy, he quoted to himself as he elbowed his way along the crowded pavement to Fleet Street. She lived six years with her guardians, the Clavels; she lives now on land belonging to them—belonging to me in fact—and she is generous enough to maintain the Clavel's old servants. Surely, therefore, in spite of dead Roger Clavel's sins, she will grow to forgive me my name!

Besides, she already knows it. She cannot have forgotten our talk the first evening we met. Even if she had, Denzil Warne, who is a great friend of hers, will probably carry out his threat of warning people against me by telling Lady Anne I am one of his enemies and hers. There is something uncivilized and Corsican in this vendetta-like hatred for all the members of a particular family. It does not chime in with modern notions at all.

Deep in his imaginings, he had not noticed the gradual clouding of the sky, nor had he been long enough in England to be always accompanied by an umbrella. It was too early for the train by which he meant to return from Waterloo. So, finding himself opposite the narrow lane leading to "Ye Olde Cheshire Cheese," he passed into the little old-fashioned eating house, and seating himself facing the small-paned window, and next to the sacred place of Dr. Samuel Johnson, he ordered some coffee and buttered toast.

The room was empty but for three young American tourists, solemnly drinking tea in a compartment on the other side of the low-roofed room. The rain came on, and the place became so dark that Harry had but an indistinct view of a man of medium height, who presently hurried in with his collar up and a wet umbrella in his hand, and seated himself beside him.

The sound of his voice, as he began ordering beer and a sandwich, struck familiarly on Harry's ears. It was unusually musical and marked by a slight foreign intonation.

He turned sharply round to look in the man's face.

Deep set grey eyes under gold-rimmed eyeglasses, aquiline features, and black hair and beard sprinkled with grey; it was Leopold Sarto.

At the same instant his fellow-traveller of the week before appeared to recognize him, and to be delighted at the encounter.

Mr. Worth! he exclaimed. Or was it Clavelworth? Anyhow, I'm charmed to meet you again. Are you doing the 'Cheshire Cheese' as all good Americans do?

I have seen it before, Harry answered coldly.

It is worth more than one visit, his companion assured him enthusiastically.

Skin-Tortured Little Ones

ally. You cannot think how glad I am to meet you again. I have been feeling extremely uneasy about you, and had I known where you lived, I would have looked you up.

Indeed!

You see, while we were chatting in the train, you suddenly fell asleep—While I was smoking a Turkish cigarette you pressed upon me, Mr. Sarto. I remember the circumstance perfectly. Also that you told me you had these cigarettes made for you.

Why, so I did! Sarto exclaimed. But the fact is, Mr. Worth, I made a mistake and let you take a wrong one!

A mistake?

The stranger burst out laughing, and laid his hand familiarly on Harry's arm.

Certainly, a mistake, he said. In my case was one particular opium cigarette, of a sort which I have been taking at bedtime lately for neuralgia. I had forgotten it was there, and I was greatly distressed when I saw its effect upon you. I tried in vain to wake you, and at Bloxam, where I had to get out, I put you in the care of the guard. What more could I do?

Nothing, replied Harry drily. I think you had done quite enough already.

The waiter at that moment brought in Harry's toast and coffee and Leopold Sarto's refreshment. As if by mistake, Sarto took the coffee, which he was about to drink, when he stopped himself and apologized.

Forgive me, he explained, but I always take coffee myself at this hour. I ordered beer only because it seemed more appropriate to the house. I must be off almost at once, as I leave London in an hour. I suppose you are tired of dreamy old Dorset by this time?

I like Dorset amazingly and am going back there this evening.

Will you share my cab? the stranger asked impulsively. I am only going on the river, but it is always Waterloo.

Thank you, no. I have a call to make.

A call?

You seem greatly interested in my concerns, Mr. Sarto, Harry said. My call, if you must know, is to a toyshop in Regent Street, where I am going to buy a horse and a cart I have promised to a little lad of five whom I saved from drowning last Friday.

You saved a child from drowning, Sarto said, looking at him fixedly. Where? When? And how? Forgive my impertinence! But I admire pluck more than any quality.

Swimming is as easy to me as walking, Harry replied. It was at Lyllyngton fish ponds, and the child was the steward's great-grandson, Edwin Jessop.

Ah!

An angry exclamation broke from Leopold Sarto. With an emphatic foreign gesticulation, he swept Harry's cup of coffee from the wooden table on to the sanded floor, and set his heel upon it.

Those infernal Jessops! he hissed out. I have heard about them. They make Lady Anne's life a martyrdom. I should like to destroy them as—forgive me, Mr. Worth, but I have smashed your cup of coffee in my excitement! Let me order you another!

CHAPTER XXV

Angel's Visits

Harry Clavel despised a man who was a slave to his temper. His own he had under capital control; but it threatened to break out now.

He rose from his table at the "Cheshire Cheese," paid for the refreshments he had not touched to the waiter who was collecting the fragments of the broken cup, gave the slightest bend of the head in the direction of Leopold Sarto, and strode out of the hostelry.

Sarto hurried after him, but Harry sprang into a cab. Even then the man was not to be shaken off, but laid his hand on the door of the hansom as he addressed Harry in tones of earnest apology.

The words did not affect Harry so strongly as did Sarto's face. In the vivid sunlight which followed the shower, his olive skin showed of an almost unearthly pallor, and lines unseemly before and suggestive of mental and physical suffering, were visible about his brow and eyes.

Felden was still debating the matter when he reached town. He turned up at the hotel in Covent Garden where Phillips was awaiting him. It wanting then just ten minutes to three. Phillips appeared to be relieved when Felden came in.

I thought you were going to fail me, he said. I began to think that you had missed your train.

I very nearly lost it, Felden laughed. But a miss is as good as a mile. And now, why do you want me?

We shall see that in good time, sir, Phillips said. In about ten minutes from now we shall begin operations. There is just time to smoke a cigarette before we start. What is the best news from Miss Parr's?

I haven't seen an evening paper yet. Was the Blenheim colt beaten very disgracefully?

He wasn't beaten at all, Felden said. In fact, he won with considerable ease. There was very little trace of staleness about him. But it is early to talk about that. We must wait and see what old Ralph says to-morrow. I should not be surprised if the colt has done himself some serious injury to-day.

Phillips burst into a hearty laugh (To be Continued)

MAN WHO STOOD STILL

Shop Stocked With Goods Half a Century Old

There has just died at Aurora, Illinois, Mr. D. W. Stockwell, one of the quaintest characters in the State, who has been known for many years as "The Man who Stood Still." Fifty years ago he was the owner of one of the biggest shops outside Chicago, and during the Civil war he prospered greatly.

After the war he failed to keep abreast of the times, and the same goods which he carried then still adorn the show windows of his shop. For a few years the shop made a profit, but within half a dozen years after the war the place was a curiosity shop, and continued so. The hoop skirt, barber-striped hose, jet jewelry and other antiquities continued to form his stock.

In latter years he was the only one who entered the place except visitors to the city, and his shop became a show place in a moderate way, on account of the man's peculiarities. Mr. Stockwell has carried about $2,000 worth of goods—all on date—for over 40 years. But notwithstanding lack of custom, he opened his shop promptly at 7 every morning, and remained until 6 in the evening. He died at the age of 77.

Peevish, pale, restless, and sickly children owe their condition to worms. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator will relieve them and restore health.

Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial is compounded specially to combat dysentery, cholera morbus and all inflammatory disorders that change of food or water may set up in the stomach and intestines. These complaints are more common in summer than in winter, but they are not confined to the warm months, as undue laxness of the bowels may seize a man at any time. Such a sufferer will find speedy relief in this Cordial.

Well, I can bring you flowers today, for that matter, but if I do I'll have to cut out that new asparagus.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The Canton-Macao railway, China, has already been surveyed, and it is probable that construction work will be commenced in the near future. Starting at Fati, across the Sikiang river from Canton, the line will run almost due south through the districts of Shuntak and Heungshan to the boundary of the Portuguese colony of Macao. This line will be about seventy miles long and will penetrate one of the richest districts of south China.

CHILHOOD DANGERS

No symptoms that indicate any of the ailments of childhood should be allowed to pass without prompt attention. The little ailment may soon become a serious one and perhaps a little life passes out. The Tablets are guaranteed absolutely safe and can be given to the newborn babe as well as the growing child. Mrs. Arthur Drapcan, "Mon' Carmel, Que., says: "I can give Baby's Own Tablets to my little one without fear, well knowing the beneficial results that will follow their use." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers; or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Impoliteness of Curiosity

The goose had been carved, and everybody had tasted it. It was excellent. The negro minister, who was the guest of honor could not restrain his enthusiasm.

But as fine a goose as I ever saw Broddah Williams, he said to his host. What did you get such a fine goose? Well now, parson, replied the carver of the goose, exhibiting great dignity and refinement, when you preach a sensational good sermon, I never axes you what you got it. I hopes you will show me de same consideration.—Popular Magazine.

REGINA IS RECOVERING FROM EFFECTS OF DIRE CALAMITY

Terrible Ravages of Storm Which Devastated the City, Causing Heavy Loss of Life and Suffering—A Bigger and Better Regina to Rise from Ruins

Regina.—With a large portion of the business section lying in wreckage, and street after street throughout the southern and central residential sections razed to the ground for blocks in length, Regina is a city of ruins. It was 5 o'clock in the afternoon when the cyclone struck the city and in the history of the West, no such storm has ever been known.

Coming from the south it dropped just a few blocks north of the southern city limits, cutting a swath several streets wide, right down into the centre of the city, laying buildings flat in its wake. The Methodist and Baptist and Knox Churches, all magnificent structures, were the first of the large buildings struck. The former went with a crash that sounded above the howling of the storm and the roar of the cloudburst that accompanied the wind.

The greater part of the roof was moved from the latter structure and the storm moved on across Victoria Square, removing the walls and roof from the Y.M.C.A., badly wrecking the magnificent new public library, and passing thence to the Presbyterian Church, which was but little better off than the Methodist.

The Y.M.C.A. was next in line, and half of the building was demolished on the instant. A few small buildings were moved from their locations, some being carried across the street, and the Masonic Temple was next attacked and nearly razed.

In the next block to the west, and one farther north, the telephone exchange stood practically by itself, except for a few smaller buildings. Upon this the force of the storm had instantaneous effect, laying the building flat, a big mass of wreckage, under which the girls were imprisoned.

The Massey-Harris offices and warehouse, standing beside the Canadian Pacific Railway yards were practically demolished and of the row of grain elevators upon which the farmers of the district are depending for the storage of their crop this season, but one remains, and that much damaged.

Over on the north side of the tracks warehouses were destroyed right and left.

One of the large grain elevators was picked up and thrown a distance of 50 feet from its foundations, landing on a freight train of goods and cars. One house barely on the edge of the storm was picked off its foundations and that next to it was settled squarely on the vacated site.

The total death toll was 28 lives with several hundred more or less seriously injured.

The work of clearing away the debris is proceeding fine. The task is gigantic, but with hundreds of workmen engaged on it, already some semblance to order is being evolved from the chaos caused by the cyclone. Good work is being done too, in the repairing of the damaged residences capable of being made habitable. Several hundred carpenters are at work and more are coming into the city.

It has been suggested that a special assessment should be levied upon the citizens at large to raise $1,000,000 or more, if necessary in order that the ruined district may be rebuilt without delay.

Contractors, glaziers, lumber merchants and hardware merchants were never so rushed. Carloads of window glass and other materials have been ordered and rushed to the city to supply the army of workers with the necessary materials for reconstruction and repairs.

The Commissioner in charge of the work of tearing down old buildings, the providing for temporary shelters and the repair of more or less damaged houses, stated that large as were his gangs of workmen he had not nearly enough and could use 1,500 workmen from other towns. As the city is considering the erection of hundreds of houses there will be plenty of work for all. The trades needed most are as follows:—Carpenters, bricklayers, electricians, plasterers and masons, although there is a dearth of all trades.

Apart altogether from any plan which may be decided upon to finance rebuilding, large amounts will be required for relief, scores if not hundreds of families having been stripped of everything they possessed. The excellent spirit shown by the citizens continues to be the bright spot in the calamity. A bigger and better Regina than ever appears to be the general motto and there seems to be little doubt but that the ghastly gash which now disfigures the city will be speedily rebuilt on a scale which will surpass that which marked it before.

One suggestion now under consideration is a proposal of Mayor McAra that the city should utilize the property it possesses west of the city and erect 500 dwellings at a moderate figure, which would be available for rental or purchase by workmen and others.

At a special meeting of the city council, a bylaw was rushed through to meet present circumstances. All permits issued for temporary buildings within fire limits will have a time limit placed upon them and will have to be removed by a certain date to be fixed.

Reciprocity With West Indies

Ottawa.—Hon. J. D. Reid, acting minister of trade and commerce through arrangements with the home government, made public the reciprocal tariff agreement entered into last April between the Canadian government and a number of the islands in the British West Indies. Briefly the agreement provides for a preference of 20 per cent. of the existing rates of duty upon a large number of articles specified in a schedule annexed, with a minimum preference in the case of flour and sugar. Provision is made for taking in the islands of the West Indies not parties to the agreement as well as Newfoundland, within three years from the time it comes into force. Any of the parties to the agreement may provide that the concessions granted shall not be applicable unless conveyed by ship direct between the two countries concerned, provision being made in this connection for the regulation of freight rates by the Canadian government. The agreement is to come into force by proclamation after it has been ratified by the parties concerned, and the secretary of state for the colonies, and may be terminated at the end of 10 years on a year's notice.

DUCHESS MAY COME

Her Royal Highness Will Not Attend Official Functions

Ottawa.—The following announcement was given out at government house: "Although the health of the Duchess of Connaught has improved so much that Her Royal Highness hopes to be able to accompany His Royal Highness the governor-general to the maritime provinces and on the western tour. It is not expected that Her Royal Highness will attend any official functions."

Woman Aviator Killed

Boston.—Miss Harriet Quimby, of New York, the first woman to win an aviator's license in America and the first woman to cross the English Channel in an aeroplane was instantly killed with her passenger, W. A. P. Willard, manager of the Boston aviation meet at Atlantic City, when her Blériot monoplane fell into Dorchester Bay from a height of a thousand feet.

Miss Quimby and Willard were returning from a trip over the harbor to Boston Light and back, a distance of 20 miles.

The flight was made in 20 minutes. Heading back into the 8-miles gusty wind Miss Quimby started a volplane. One of the gusts caught the tail of the end of the monoplane, throwing the machine up perpendicular.

For an instant it posed there. Then Willard's body was thrown clear of the machine, followed immediately by Miss Quimby's. Hurling over and over the two bodies shot downward, striking the water twenty feet from the shore. The monoplane plunged down 15 feet away. The water was only five feet deep. Men from the Savin Hill Yacht Club nearby were on the spot quickly and leaping overboard from their motorboats hauled the two bodies out of the mud into which they had sunk deeply. Death was probably instantaneous.

GERMAN DEFENCE LEAGUE

Conducting Campaign to Have Army Strength Augmented

Berlin.—Unofficial military experts led by the newly founded 'Defence League' are already dissatisfied with the new law strengthening the army. There are signs of a vigorous agitation to show that the German army is in some departments inferior to the French in strength and in other departments inferior in organization. The 'Defence League' has issued a pamphlet on 'The Deficiency of the Army Measures' in which the Army is represented as unfit for a European struggle.

The pamphlet declares that German infantry strength is below that of France. It puts the French infantry of the line at 659 battalions, including thirty-nine battalions of the colonial infantry now stationed in France, and the German strength as only 624 battalions. Under the new German law the German strength will gradually reach 671 battalions, and the French strength under the new law, 673.

MOUNTED POLICE IN MANITOBA

New Territory Will be Quite as Safe to Live in as It Ever Was

Ottawa.—An important arrangement for policing New Manitoba has come to the federal and the Manitoba governments.

In brief it is that the mounted police will continue to do duty in the territory added to Manitoba as they did when that territory was part of the Northwest Territories, on in other words, the section of the north which has not yet been allotted to any province.

Before the bill extending the boundary of Manitoba up to Hudson Bay, the territory was policed by the troops of the plains, and just as soon as the new territory was added to Manitoba it became evident that some provision would have to be made for policing.

The Manitoba government asked the Ottawa government whether it would not be willing to allow the mounted police to continue their duties until such time as the province could organize some extension of its present provincial police force.

To this the Dominion was willing to acquiesce, but it was a question of terms. Those terms have now been arranged, and the result will be that until Manitoba is ready, and able, to take over the work of protecting the north country, the mounted police will do the work and a charge will be put against the Manitoba account in the Dominion ledger.

Incidentally it may be added that as a result of the new arrangement a new mounted police post has been established at York factory. This means that three posts covered by Manitoba and Ontario will be policed by the force which has its headquarters at Regina.

Fullerton and Herschall, the two most northerly posts of the mounted police will continue to be administered from Regina under orders from Ottawa, as they are yet in the category of being 'no man's land.' By which is meant territory that none of the three provinces are yet prepared to take over.

KRUPP FIRM IS CENTURY OLD

Monster Celebration to be Held in August at Essen—Kaiser to Attend

Berlin.—In August of this year the famous firm of Krupp in Essen will celebrate its centenary and it goes without saying that such an event will not pass unnoticed in a country like this, a great part of whose power was built up by Krupp guns. The festivities indeed will be of great imposing and warlike character and will be honored by the presence of the Kaiser, who is an intimate friend of the Krupp family, members of which are said to have helped him out of many financial difficulties.

On the first day of the jubilee, the Kaiser will arrive from Berlin on his famous special train and will be the guest of the Krupp family at the Hugel Villa, a palace which in splendor surpasses many of his own castles.

After an official reception in the city hall of Essen by the civic and ecclesiastical authorities, the Kaiser will confer decorations on 900 of Krupp employees, who have been in the firm's service for twenty-five years.

The great event of the gathering will be a brilliant costume tournament, arranged to represent the passing of the ancient forms of armament to the most modern type of death-dealing engines of war, special attention being given to the development of gunnery.

It will begin with a grand military display of the time of the Emperor Maximilian I, in which hundreds of employees of the firm, from Herr Krupp von Bohlen-Halbach himself down to the humblest ranks, will take part.

In the tournament, 250 ex-officers of the German army, in shining armor of the period, mounted on gaily caparisoned chargers, will show their prowess with sword and lance, while a hundred ladies in the costumes of the time will contribute to the picturesque of the scene.

The display will culminate in an apotheosis of the might of Germany's 'mailed fist.'

Kansas. In the Southern states

yields are fairly good but they are expected to be smaller further north. Conditions in other parts of the world for the week show little change. The United Kingdom needs warmer weather. In Russia the Volga districts have suffered some damage from drought and rain is badly needed. Elsewhere the crop outlook is generally favorable but only moderate crops are expected. France and Germany continue to take an active interest in arriving cargoes. Weekly statistics show gradually decreasing stocks. The United States visible supply decreased 1,618,000 bus., compared with a decrease last week of 2,042,000 bus. and a decrease of 1,127,000 bus. a year ago. The total is now 24,750,000 bus. almost the same as what it was last year. The European visible this week is 92,944,000 bus. against 97,100,000 bus. last week a decrease of 4,156,000 bus. against a decrease previous week of 262,000 bus. Last year there was a decrease of 5,100,000 bus. when total was 83,000,000 bus. World's shipments were: American 4,056,000 bus.; Russian 2,024,000 bus.; Danubian, 824,000 bus.; Indian, 2,504,000 bus.; Argentine, 2,832,000 bus.; Australian, 656,000 bus. Chili and North Africa 240,000 bus., making a total of 13,136,000 bus., compared with 14,768,000 bus. previous week and 11,632,000 bus. a year ago.

The Winnipeg market has been active and higher as far as trading in futures was concerned, traders anticipating damage by the hot dry weather. One and two northern is scarce and has advanced 1c. on better enquiry from Eastern millers but other grades are slow and show practically no changes, in fact there are no buyers to-day for either No. 4 or No. 6. Stocks at Terminal elevators are decreasing slowly although outward shipments for the week were more than three times larger than they were a year ago, but receipts from the country are running correspondingly larger than a year ago. Today's cash prices are: 1 Nor., 108½c; 2 Nor., 105½c; 3 Nor., 100½c; No. 5 wheat 76½c; feed, 56c; No. 3 Alberta Red Winter 99½c; No. 4 A.R., 90½c. Futures closed July 108½c; October 98½c.

Oats—

The enquiry for the higher grades continue very dull, and prices are off ½c. There is still a demand for extra one feed and low grades and values for the week are ¾c to ½c higher. Arrivals at Port William and Port Arthur are disappointing, as an increasing number of cars are found to be heating or already heated. More inspection certificates have been changed on oats during the past ten days than ever before in the history of the trade. Today's values are: 2 C.W. oats, 43½c; Ex 1 Pd., 43½c; 1 Pd., 43c; 2 Pd. 41c; Futures closed July, 44½c; October, 38½c.

Barley—

Enquiry has improved, and buyers are in the market for all grades. Today's prices are No. 3, 55c; No. 4, 56c; Rectified, 48c; Feed 48c.

Flax—

Has had a decline of 10c. per bushel. Receipts have been exceptional by large, and more than the demand called for. Today's values are: Rel., $1.82; Condemned, $1.37. The futures closed at $1.97.

All prices quoted above are based on delivery in store Port William and Port Arthur.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON II.—THIRD QUARTER, FOR JULY 14, 1912.

Text of the Lesson, Mark iv, 1-20. Memory Verse, 20.—Golden Text, Jas. 1:21—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

Jesus went about all Galilee teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people. "Annointed with the Holy Ghost and with power, He went about doing good and healing all that were oppressed of the devil, for God was with Him." (Matt. iv, 23; Acts x, 38). The great topic of Scripture is the kingdom foretold in the dominion over all things granted to Adam and Eve and consummated when the kingdoms of this world shall have become the kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ, and He shall reign for ever and ever (Gen. i, 26-28; Rev. xi, 15). After Adam lost the dominion by listening to the devil, handing the dominion over to him and thus bringing sin and the curse upon our race and the earth, God began to reveal by type and plain statement a Redeemer and a redemption and a restoration of all that was lost by sin. The Redeemer is first mentioned as the seed of the woman, the redemption is set forth in the sacrifice which provided the coats of skins, and the restoration is seen in the cherubim (Gen. iii, 15, 21, 24). Later it was revealed that the Redeemer would be the seed of Abraham, having a special people on earth called Israel, the twelve tribes from the twelve sons of Jacob, and that through them all nations would be blessed. Still later it was revealed to David that the Lord's anointed would proceed Him, sit upon His throne and reign forever, and to Him give all the prophets witness. Matthew's gospel opens with a statement concerning Jesus Christ, the Son of David, the Son of Abraham, the one in whom all the promises would be fulfilled. During His public ministry of three or four years and also during the forty days between His resurrection and ascension the kingdom was His one great topic, but those to whom He specially came despised and rejected Him, asked for a murderer instead of Him, said, "We have no king but Caesar," and cried concerning Jesus Christ, "Crucify Him, crucify Him!"

It was after they determined to kill Him that He began to teach in parables as in the lesson of today, which is recorded also in Matt. xiii, 1. "The same day went Jesus out of the house and sat by the seaside," are very suggestive of the fact that He was about to leave the house of Israel and gather from the sea of nations a special people for a special purpose. In Heb. iii, 5, 6, we read of Moses faithful in all his house as a servant and of Christ as a Son over His own house. In Matt. xxiii, 38, Jesus said, "Behold your house is left unto you desolate, for I say unto you ye shall not see me henceforth till ye shall say, Blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord." We are waiting for that "till," or as it is in Luke xix, 13, "occupy till I come," and in 1 Cor. xi, 26, "Shew the Lord's death till He come," or in Ezek. xxxi, 27; Acts iii, 21, "I will overturn till He come whom the heavens must receive until the times of restoration of all things which God hath spoken by the mouth of all His holy prophets." The kingdom is no mystery but one of the plainest things revealed in the Scriptures, but that the kingdom which was at hand should be postponed and an age intervene between its revelation and its actual coming was something not before revealed, and only fully revealed later to Paul, as he states in Eph. iii and elsewhere. This age in which we still live is covered by the seven parables of Matt. xiii, the first of which and its explanation we have in our lesson in Mark today. He spoke the parable to the multitudes, but explained it to His disciples when alone with them, saying, "Unto you it is given to know the mystery of the kingdom of God, but unto them that are without all these things are done in parables." Then He gave the reason (verses 10-12). In verse 13 He seems to indicate that this parable of the sower is a key to all the parables or that this one is so simple that if they understood it not it would be difficult for them to understand any. With the explanation given so fully by Himself, no further comment is necessary. Let us, however, note carefully that the great work given us is to sow diligently the incorruptible seed of the word of God (Luke viii, 11; 1 Pet. i, 23), remembering that He will watch over it and it will not fail to accomplish His pleasure (Jer. v, 12; R.V.; Isa. lv, 11). The devil is always ready to snatch away the word lest people should believe and be saved. He is the god of this world, blinding the minds of those who believe not (11 Cor. iv, 4). The thing to do is to receive the word with meekness and bring forth fruit with patience (Jas. i, 21; Luke xiii, 16). If we are true believers, saved fully and forever by the great sacrifice of Christ, we will, by His grace, have victory over the cares of this world, the deceitfulness of riches, the pleasures of this life and the lusts of all other things which might choke the word and hinder our fruitfulness.

Excursion to Lacombe Ex- perimental Farm

The department of Agriculture in conjunction with the Dominion Experimental Farm, Lacombe, will run an excursion train from Calgary to Lacombe on July 29th.

This will give the farmers and their families an opportunity to visit the Experimental Farm at Lacombe, and also see what the experimental farms of Alberta are doing to assist the agriculturist in growing better and bigger crops, as well, to see and judge for themselves what is going on at Lacombe Experimental farm in the way of experiments. The information sent out from these institutions in the form of circulars is enormous and is read with a great deal of interest by the farmers of the Alberta Province.

Meals will be served on the grounds at reasonable rates and those bringing lunch baskets will have an opportunity to buy tea and coffee on the grounds. Mr. Mr. Hutton, Manager of the Farm, will be prepared to conduct the visitors over the farm.

Neat Swindle Nipped in Bud Claim Police

H. E. McDawin Arrested on Complaint of S. J. Haskill on a false Pretenses Charge

What is said to be a neat swindle that involved several thousand dollars was nipped in the bud Tuesday when the city police arrested H. E. McDawin, alias E. Italian, alias Hailton S. Ewen, alias Hailton S. Emer-Dawin, alias E. Lavin who is alleged to have floated a supposed automobile concern in Wetaskiwin under the name of the Vulcan Corporation, capitalized for $50,000,000 in the territory of Arizona United States, with H. E. McDawin, president. He is now held at the mounted police guardroom at Fort Saskatchewan on at least one charge of false pretenses.

According to the evidence of Sydney J. Haskell, who paid $50 as a first instalment of 25 shares of stock in the corporation valued at $250, which was to have built a plant to manufacture automobiles, McDawin gave elaborate details regarding the company, which was to make Wetaskiwin an industrial centre of more than ordinary importance.

When McDawin was arrested Tuesday night at 70 Clara street by detectives Seymour and Lang, he was identified it is alleged, as the man who came to Edmonton some time with a big scheme all worked out for the city fathers or whomsoever might take an interest in it. It was none other than the "Great West Coal Company" of Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, incorporated ated in the states of New York and Pennsylvania at $100,000,000, and having on its directorate some of the most prominent capitalists in the United States. McDawin gave several local people to understand that a vein of coal had been located near Vermilion, and 1000 miners as well as a considerable amount of mining machinery would be brought to Edmonton immediately to work the mine. Some of the most experienced coal mine engineers in North America were to be brought here, McDawin said, to operate the machinery. McDawin sold stock, it is alleged, in amounts of from $5 to $25 to each person.

Then he was arrested, and Magistrate Cowan sentenced him to three months at Fort Saskatchewan. McDawin is also the same man who started a fictitious automobile factory, at Tofield last year, and convinced some of the residents of that little city that an industry that surpassed the fondest dreams of the oldest citizens would be within the narrow confines of Tofield. This never materialized.

McDawin is identically the same man who talked industrial school here four years ago, and deluded several unsuspecting people out of amounts ranging from 2 dollars up to 25 dollars. The school never materialized, however, and some of the would be students have been looking for the self-styled teacher. One photograph which McDawin circulated showed him in a robe, and he greatly resembled David Belasco in appearance. He is known to have served several jail and one penitentiary term.

Summit News

Sunshine and Showers still continue.

The Weed Inspector visited Summit last week and expressed his gratification on observing the flourishing condition of many of the grain fields, but unfortunately some fields display more wild mustard than grain.

Mr. E. L. Thompson has traded his Alberta property for land in "Port Alberni" and expects to leave for B. C. in about a weeks time.

Mr. H. Trinder, a former resident of Summit is now successfully managing a large farm in "Sidney Island" B. C. for the company to which the greater part of that Island belongs.

Growth was so rapid in Summit this year that we were confidently looking forward to an abundance of wild fruit, but the frequent and severe frosts of the early spring has almost totally destroyed the young berries. However we have had no hail so far and the flower gardens are beautiful, and new carrots, turnips, etc. etc. are now quite ready for table use.

During the windstorm which visited our district lately, a gentleman was attempting to lead his excited team, through "The Villa Farm" gate, when his hat suddenly blew off, and as he stepped back to regain it, a large tree fell crashing with terrific force directly across the gate where he had been standing a moment before. It was a very close call.

Nisbet

The picnic at the school on the 12th was a success. The weather was so favorable that a large crowd assembled and did justice to the bountiful dinner provided by the ladies. After dinner the trustees called for races, and these proved amusing especially the sack, the potatoe and the thread-the-needle races.

The Bowden baseball team played the Stars by 10 to 6.

The Bowden refreshment stand was well patronized.

Mr. Bennett has arrived with his family and is living in Mr. R. Hoare's house.

Alf. Sannes had a serious accident recently, severing an artery in his arm. He was able to be out and umpire for the ball game on Friday.

Mrs. B. O. Sannes, Calgary, is spending a fortnight with her father.

Don Swain is working for R. Woodland this summer.

Mrs. Sid. Truby of Fort Saskatchewan, returned to her home last week after a visit with her mother Mrs. Latimer.

The cream hauler has to study the road question these days.

SCIATICA AND LUMBAGO

SUFFERED FOR TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AND COULD GET NO RELIEF

Now Tells of the Wonderful Results Obtained by the Use of

DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD

Sciatica, neuralgia and sciatic rheumatism are the result of a run-down nervous system. For this reason all treatments must necessarily fail which do not build up the nervous system.

Mr. Collins suffered for twenty-five years and never was able to obtain satisfactory treatment until he began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills. While the Nerve Food forms new blood and restores the exhausted nervous system, the Kidney-Liver Pills invigorate the action of kidneys, liver and bowels.

Mr. W. T. Collins, Morpeth, Ont., writes: "It affords me pleasure to be able to speak favorably of two of Dr. Chase's medicines—the Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills. I had been a sufferer for twenty-five years from sciatica, lumbago and neuralgia and tried almost all the medicines I could hear of, without one particle of benefit, until I commenced to use Dr. Chase's. I noticed an improvement before I had used two boxes, and the benefits obtained by continued use have been wonderful. I have so much confidence in these two medicines that I have recommended them to dozens of my friends, and I have yet to hear of a single case in which they failed to give satisfaction."

Dr. Chase's medicines are for sale by all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Take Their Chances

And now that you are through college, what are you going to do? I shall study medicine.

Rather crowded profession already isn't it?

Can't help that. I shall study medicine, and those who are already in the profession will have to take their chances, that's all.—London Opinion.

Said the navy chaplain to the marine, to whom he was endeavoring to demonstrate the undesirability of tobacco: "After all, Bill, you must reflect that in all creation there is not to be found any animal except man, that smokes." The marine sniffed. Yes, he agreed, and you won't find either any other animal in all creation that cooks its food.

Reform in Surgery

That surgeons in recent years, in very recent years, have to some extent come to the opinion that the unfortunate person who may furnish them opportunity for the display of their skill in the use of saw and knife is himself worthy of some consideration apart from the beautiful operation, is a matter of congratulation, not to the surgeons, but to ourselves of the laity. It has not been so many moons ago when a surgeon knife in hand, was ready to pounce upon a patient keen to operate without considering whether the operation might not be a graver source of danger than the deceased condition itself.

There has recently developed, says the New York Medical Record, the opposite tendency. This strives to counteract the unbounded enthusiasm of the technician for an immediate surgical interference, a tendency to study the patient as well as his disease, to consider the factors of safety present in the individual under consideration, and to take all possible means of increasing the chance of recovery from the operation itself as well as from the disease.

THE GRAIN COMBINE

Past and Present

Perseverance and determination are admirable qualities provided they are exercised in a good cause, but when these virtues are prostituted to minister to selfishness they are dangerous to the commonwealth and must be resisted with equal perseverance and determination.

This is the situation in Northwest Canada today. On one hand stands a thoroughly united band of grain dealers, and on the other hand there are the farmers, the producers of the country. The grain men are using every means in their power to exploit the farmers.

The history of the grain trade in the West is one of a continual struggle by the grain producers for fair treatment at the hands of the grain dealers. The struggle dates back to the early eighties when the first frosted grain was put on the market. The grain men refused to buy the damaged wheat and caused much suffering all through the southern parts of Manitoba. Not only farmers, but merchants as well were brought to the brink of bankruptcy. The grain men at that time sought to reduce the price of wheat to the lowest level. Then the farmers met and made arrangements to ship their own grain to the Eastern dealers. The C.P.R. aided them by arranging to have the grain shipped through to Sarnia where it was disposed of. As a result every bushel offered was sold at fair prices. As soon as the western grain dealers saw that the farmers had found a way to dispose of their crop, they were quite willing to get into the market too.

This is a fair sample of the tactics of the grain men. They are determined to control the grain trade of the West. Their latest scheme is the sample market. Should they get that, they will again control the sale of wheat.

A sample market in Winnipeg is asked for. As a justification, the sample market in Minneapolis is quoted. But the conditions are not the same in these two places. In the first place, there are a great many more railways running into Minneapolis than into Winnipeg, therefore the work of re-shipping the cars after the grain is sold is spread among more companies and consequently the cars are moved more quickly. Then, owing to the big mills located in Minneapolis, over seventy per cent of the wheat received in that city is milled there, while not more than four per cent of the wheat taken into Winnipeg is milled at that point, and the remainder is shipped out.

Another claim made in favor of a sample market is that the farmers will receive a better price for their grain. The plea put forth is that a carload of grain that would just miss grading No. 1, has under the present system to be graded No. 2, whereas if a sample market were in effect, that carload of grain would bring one or two cents per bushel over the price of No. 2, and by mixing it with a carload that was a little over No. 3 would make two carloads of No. 2.

But experience proves its fallacy. We had grain mixing practised openly for years, but no one except the grain dealer gained by it. A sample market would kill competition as the men who operate it are the same men who every day until recently, named the price to be paid for wheat at every buying point in the Western provinces, and by an agreement amongst themselves would name the price to be paid on the sample market. You cannot expect to gather grapes from thorns or figs from thistles.

There is at present a grain board that meets every fall and decides on the grades. If they do their duty properly there is no need whatever for mixing, and at any rate experience has taught that the farmers would never obtain the benefit of the mixing. Another important fact is that the mixing of grain will certainly result in lowering the standard of Western Canadian wheat in Great Britain, who is our chief buyer.

We notice in the daily papers the Minister of Trade and Commerce, at Ottawa, has given notice of the intention of the government to establish sample markets before the crop of 1913 is put on the markets. There is therefore no time to be lost by Western farmers and others interested in fair play being given to them. In taking steps to prevent the grain trade being handed over to men who have proven themselves utterly unworthy of confidence.

Routing Ennui

Blifkins and his wife live in one of those fashionable, childless apartment houses. The visiting friend speaks. Say, what became of that pretty bull terrier you used to have around to keep Mrs. Blifkins company during the day?

The management wouldn't stand for it so we gave him away. We ventured a canary, but they kicked on that. I suggested some goldfish, but Mrs. Blifkins said they reminded her of swimming snakes.

How did you finally agree? Excellent. I bought her one of those Mexican jumping beans. It's cute as it can be. Say, Clara, get our little Pedro and make him do some of his stunts.—St. Louis Republic.

SHEEP EAT RABBITS

One of the Most Remarkable Changes of Diet on Record

One of the most remarkable changes of diet on record was that of the kea, or mountain parrot of New Zealand. Originally a vegetarian, it suddenly took to killing sheep and lambs, devouring certain tit-bits to which it had taken a liking and leaving the rest of the carcass untouched. Owing to these ravages the flock-owners and the Government have been waging a war of extermination against the keas that are interfering with the human liking for fleshy food.

Even the sheep at the Antipodes have "developed the carnivorous habit," as a Melbourne paper puts it. They have taken to attacking and eating each other as well as rabbits, which are still very numerous in Australia in spite of the prodigious quantities of them that are every year trapped, tinned and exported. So far the phenomenon of the carnivorous sheep has not been noticed outside the southern district of New South Wales, but the news will doubtless soon spread. One paper thinks it possible that Australia may evolve a "wild man-eating merino" that will provide good sport for big-game hunters.

The Pill That Leads Them All—

Pills are the most portable and compact of all medicines, and when easy to take are the most acceptable of preparations. But they must attract their power to be popular. As Parmedee's Vegetable Pills are the most popular of all pills they must fully meet all requirements. Accurately compounded and composed of ingredients proven to be effective in regulating the digestive organs, there is no surer medicine to be had anywhere.

Princess Patricia Meets Emergency

In fair weather, on long voyages, Princess Patricia of Connaught is busy on deck, painting or doing some simple handicraft. Much of this work finds its way later to charity.

On a brief yachting trip she viewed a gorgeous sunset; to let such opportunity go unimproved was out of the question. Her color box was there, but brushes had been forgotten. Not a moment could be lost if her sketch would be completed.

The doctor was called for and he came running. "Your brushes, quick, please—the kind you paint people's throats with!"

And so the situation was saved.

Difficult to Cure

A woman consulted an oculist about her husband's eyesight, saying she wanted a very strong pair of glasses for him.

I fear I cannot recommend glasses without first seeing your husband, the oculist said.

He won't come at any price, was the reply.

Then tell me something about him. Can he see objects at a distance, or does he experience difficulty when reading? For instance, could he see that pigeon which is flying up above us?

Rather! the woman said. He'd spot a pigeon on 't wing quicker than he'd see an aeroplane, especially if he'd got a bet on it. What I want yer to cure is his short-sightedness when he's seekin' work. He's been lookin' for a job ten years, and never seen one to suit his fastidious eyesight yet!

The oculist regretted that he couldn't deal with the case.

PRIZE ATTRACTING WORLD

Farmers Everywhere Preparing to Compete for the Valuable Premiums at Exposition

The interest in the grand sweep-stake prizes in the several grain classes of the International Dry-Farmed Products Exposition, to be held at Lethbridge, Alberta, next October, has increased and the number of premiums have likewise multiplied. The Rumley tractor stands as the premier premium offered for the best bushel of hard wheat grown under dry-farming conditions, or where the annual precipitation is less than 20 inches, and where the land or any part of the farm has not been irrigated during the season. This premium has attracted a great deal of attention, and many farmers are anxious to possess it.

While there is no other prize offered of value equal to the tractor, still it is a noteworthy fact that three of the other valuable prizes are donated by the International Harvester Co., or through its agencies, and these, too, are attracting a great deal of attention. The Oliver Chilled Plow Works donated a $500 gang 4-furrow plow, with either stubble or breaker bases, to be delivered free to the winner from the nearest agency of the International Harvester Co. of America, for the best bushel of oats grown in Canada in 1912 under dry-farming methods. For the best sheaf of oats grown anywhere in the world under dry-farming methods the International Harvester Co. donates a McCormick grain binder, and for the best peck of flax an International corrugated 22-wheel packer.

Shakespeare Exhibition

At the Shakespeare exhibition at Earl's Court there is a golden book guarded by an attendant in brown Elizabethan habit. Herein more or less distinguished visitors to "Shakespeare's England" are invited to inscribe their autographs, and many interesting people from all parts of the world have already done so. The other day Mr. Winston Churchill was prevailed upon to write his name in this book, which has as the first name in it that of Queen Alexandra, followed immediately by the autograph of her sister, the Empress Marie of Russia. On the first page also, among other autographs, are those of Princess Victoria, Prince Arthur of Connaught, Lord Howe and Lady Ripon.

Why Have "Nerves"?

This is the reason why women have "nerves." When thoughts begin to grow cloudy and uncertain, impulses lag and the warnings of pain and distress are sent like flying messages throughout limbs and frame, straightway, nine times in ten, a woman will lay the cause of the trouble to some defect at the point where she first felt it. Is it a headache, a backache, a sensation of irritability or twitching and uncontrollable nervousness, something must be wrong with the head or back, a woman naturally says, but all the time the real trouble very often centers in the womanly organs. In nine cases out of ten the seat of the difficulty is here, and a woman should take rational treatment for its cure. The local disorder and inflammation of the delicate special organs of the sex should be treated steadily and systematically.

Dr. Pierce, during a long period of practice, found that a prescription made from medicinal extracts of native roots, without the use of alcohol, relieved over 90 per cent. of such cases. After using this remedy for many years in his private practice he put it up in form of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, that would make it easily procurable, and it can be had at any store where medicines are handled.

Mrs. LILA B. HAWKINS, of Zeus, Va., writes: "I had been failing in health for two years—most of the time was not able to attend to my household duties. Female weakness was my trouble and I was getting very bad but, thanks to Doctor Pierce's medicines, I am well and strong again. I took only three bottles of 'Favorite Prescription,' and used the 'Lotion Tablets.' I have nothing but praise for Doctor Pierce's wonderful medicines."

She Saw Her Finish

A widower belonging to a country village lately led to the altar a fourth bride. After the honeymoon the happy couple settled down in his home, and, as the surrounding country was new to the lady, she was anxious to visit all the places of interest in the locality. Among the spots visited was the village churchyard, and there the husband and wife paused before a very elaborate tombstone, the property of the bridegroom. The bride, being a little short sighted, asked him to read the inscription. In solemn tones he read:

Sacred to the memory of Ann, beloved wife of John—; also Jane, beloved wife of John—; also Mary, beloved wife of John—

He stopped abruptly.

What are the words beneath? innocently asked the lady, and her horror can be imagined when he read:—

Be ye also ready.

'One of the great trans-Atlantic steamship companies has determined to make use of the system of carrying boats on deck known as "nesting." Nesting requires a boat of special construction, for the standard lifeboat could not be nested above two, or at the outside, three deep.
